CSMF //
CALIFORNIA
STUDENT
MEDIA
FESTIVAL

CSMF Rubric - PHOTOGRAPHY

Technical Expertise:  Propographer's skill in visual elements, composition, lighting, focus, and editing. Strong technical choices such as proper attribution and responsible use of tools and editing. All technical elements contribute to a highly impactful and visually engaging photograph.  Strong technical skills with minor flaws in visual elements, composition, lighting, or editing.  Adequate technical skills, though there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Adequate technical issues (e.g., visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  The photograph tells a powerful story or communicates a clear, well-developed concept. The subject evokes a strong emotional or intellectual response.  Contact (Story/Concept): Concester in perspective, it composition is projects. The photograph is experimental to communicate the clear, well-developed concept. The subject evokes as rors or concept, though the projects strong emotional or intellectual response.  Strong technical skills with minor flaws in visual elements, composition, lighting, or editing.  Adequate technical skills, though there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  The concept or story is unclear. The visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The concept or story is unclear. The photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  No clear concept or subject. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.	CSMF /	CSMF RUDIC - PHOTOGRAPHY
Masterful use of visual elements, composition, lighting, focus, and editing. All technical elements contribute to a highly impactful and visually engaging photograph.  The photograph tells a powerful story or communicates a clear, well-edveloped concept. The subject evokes a strong emotional or intellectual response.  The photograph tells a powerful story or communicates a clear, well-edveloped concept. The subject evokes a strong emotional or intellectual response.  The photograph tells a powerful story or communicates a clear, well-edveloped concept. The subject evokes a strong emotional or intellectual response.  A clear story or concept, though it may lack the depth of top-tier projects. The photograph teles hold communicates effectively but does not fully engage emotionally.  Adequate technical skills, though there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or editing elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph.  Adequate technical issues (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The concept or story is unclear. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The photograph tells a powerful sexperimental use of photography techniques (e.g., perspective, lighting, or photograph feels understanding of visual elements, count lighting, focus projects. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The concept or story is unclear. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The concept or story is unclear. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  The concept or story is unclear. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.	STUDENT MEDIA	Technical Expertise: Photographer's skill in visual elements, composition, lighting, focus, and editing. Strong technical choices enhance the	Evaluates the story or message conveyed through the photograph. Successful projects use visual elements to communicate a clear, engaging narrative	Considers in perspective, technique, and style. Creative projects take unique approaches to subject matter or explore	Considers ethical choices, such as proper attribution and responsible use of tools and edits, along with reflection on how the photograph affects viewers. Use of Al is OK if cited.
flaws in visual elements, composition, lighting, or editing.  Adequate technical skills, though there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph.  Significant technical issues (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Major technical problems (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, framing issues) make the	5	composition, lighting, focus, and editing. All technical elements contribute to a highly impactful and	story or communicates a clear, well-developed concept. The subject evokes a strong emotional or	experimental use of photography techniques (e.g., perspective, lighting). The photograph feels bold	Project shows excellent understanding of visual storytelling and media ethics in photography. Original student work is cited. Proper citation of all assets (e.g., people, sound, models, technology tools such as AI) and process
there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the photograph.  Significant technical issues (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Major technical problems (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems, poor lighting, focus problems, poor lighting, focus problems, make the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Major technical problems (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems, poor lighting, focus problems, poor lighting, focus problems, poor lighting, focus difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Major technical problems (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the without direction.  No clear concept or subject. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  Project shows minimal creativity or innovation. The photograph feels or rushed, and the composition lacks originality or depth.  Project shows no creativity or originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal or dethical use. Some missing or incomplete citations and processing documentation.  Project shows minimal creativity or innovation. The photograph feels or no sources cited.  Project shows no creativity or originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal	4	flaws in visual elements,	may lack the depth of top-tier projects. The photograph communicates effectively but does	photography techniques, but within more conventional approaches. Some experimentation, though not	of media literacy and ethical use of photography. Most assets (including technology tools such as AI) and processes are cited and visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph difficult to interpret or appreciate.  Major technical problems (e.g., visual elements, poor lighting, focus difficult to interpret or appreciate.  No clear concept or subject. The photograph feels unfinished or visual elements, poor lighting, framing issues) make the  No clear concept or subject. The photograph feels unfinished or without direction.  Project shows no creativity or originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal citations.	3	there are noticeable issues in visual elements, focus, lighting, or composition that detract from the	concept is underdeveloped. The photograph feels conventional, with	the overall approach is conventional. Little risk-taking in	of media literacy and ethical use. Some missing or incomplete citations and processing visual elements, poor lighting, photograph feels unfinished or framing issues) make the photograph feels unfinished or without direction. originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal citations.	2	visual elements, poor lighting, focus problems) make the photograph	photograph lacks purpose and feels	innovation. The photograph feels rushed, and the composition lacks	of media literacy or ethics. Few or
	1	visual elements, poor lighting, framing issues) make the	photograph feels unfinished or	originality. The photograph feels like a direct imitation or lacks personal	media ethics or media literacy. No	