Celebrating California Students

Now in its 55th year, the California Student Media Festival is our nation's oldest student media festival. It celebrates student creativity, expression and craft and it is FREE to enter. Over the past twenty years, the California Student Media Festival has awarded more than $145,000 to California schools and has expanded to include the work of more than 6,000 student contestants from schools and afterschool programs across the state. Each Spring at a FREE red carpet awards event, and this year, VIRTUAL, the Festival celebrates the amazing media and multimedia projects produced by California's best and brightest students and teachers — rewarding and acknowledging their successful classroom work. The Festival showcases what can be accomplished when talented students and dedicated teachers work together integrating media and multimedia into education.
